PRESIDENT'S WEEKEND at STOWE, VERMONT

Approximately 80 hardy souls braved eight to ten inches of snow in New Jersey just to get to the meeting place for the trip to Stowe.

- dancing in the aisle on the "party bus"
- sharing wine, beer, brownies with everyone
- getting to know all the friendly people on the bus
- trying to get to know all the 'Mike's' on the bus!

About eight hours later, at 3 o'clock a.m., we finally arrived at the Mountaineer Inn in Vermont.

Early the next morning, 80 exhausted people took off for the mountain for an exciting day of skiing.

- beautiful, chilly weather, well-groomed slopes, sunshine
- Joan Most and Barry Schwartz brave zero degree weather to make emergency trolley trip for wine, beer, and snacks. Barry staggered back with the crate full of beer and wine; Joan carried the two bags of chips and nuts. Everything was shared by the people waiting back at the fireplace, and later by all the people in the hot tub.

- listening to great jazz (brought along by Mike Optekar) in the main lounge, in front of the warm, woodburning fireplace
- relaxing after a great day of skiing

Sunday brought great skiing and the famous wine and cheese party.

- prizes (at an unreal, never before experienced, very loud 'let's make a deal/Monty Hall/ jeopardy' party). Each of the eighty or so people in the group

THIS OLD HOUSE

Now that the snow is melting, the trees are budding and the maple syrup is running, it's time to say good-bye to winter and look forward to summer.

If you have not tried spring and summer in Vermont, do yourself a favor and get up there. There are many things to do and see and the scenery itself is wonderful. There are many golf courses, tennis courts, lakes for swimming and boating, and plenty of back roads for biking.

I am sure that this year again we will have a spring and fall bike trip. Also, hopefully other functions will be run at the house in addition to work weekends. The cost for the summer is only $10 per night (can't beat that)!

One thing I made sure was done last summer was to build a brochure rack for books, guides, and maps for everything I could pick up on Vermont from the information centers.

Listed below are some of the things to do and see and places to go right in our area of Vermont:

- Mountain bike at Killington (33 mi. of trails)
- Visit Vermont Marble Exhibit (world's largest marble museum)
- Visit Maple Museum (Rte. 7, 3 miles north of house)
- Alpine Slide at Pico Ski Area
- Hike to the rock on the Long Trail, great view
- Bike the covered bridge tour
- Play golf on one of at least 12 golf courses
- Visit Wilson Castle (architectural masterpiece)
- Large number of state parks as well as private resorts with swimming, boating, hiking trails, and many other activities.
- Almost everything for everybody.

To sum it all up, I can't wait to get back to summer in Vermont. You usually have warm days and cool nights and the stars are always out.

Remember, all this can be yours for only $10 a night. If you have any questions, see me and I'll try to help you.

This being the final Lifeline for the season, I would like to first thank those who helped in running events at the house, especially Anne Benagh. Also, again much thanks to all those who helped make five work weekends possible this summer and accomplish all those things we had to do to correct the five regulations.

For years, I've talked about the house being run by a committee, not one person. This is going to make a lot more get accomplished at the house as well as leaving the board with more time to do other things.

As for my feelings on the house, I have a list of hundreds of things that can and should be done and at very little expense. Such things as outside landscaping, painting, new windows, inside venting for cooler summers. I feel we should not spend a lot of money on this house due to the location; it will only increase in value when the state moves Route 7.

I've had a great year working with a lot of great people and, unfortunately, I do not have the time to carry on. I will always make myself available for any help I can give.

— Pete Gisler
House V.P. 1995-96

To make reservations at the house, see either Lew Strauss or Peter Gisler.

April 13/14 is the last winter weekend at the Vermont house for this season.

All house keys must be returned by April 30 for return of $5 deposit.

A work weekend is being held at the house on May 4 and 5, 1996.

GARNET HILL CROSS COUNTRY SKI TRIP

Twenty-plus cross country skiers traveled to the southern Adirondack mountains on the weekend of January 27-28, 1996 to enjoy the inviting trails of the Garnet Hill Ski Center. Most people stayed in the appropriately-named Big Shanty, home to the largest moosehead this writer has ever seen. His antlers served us well as a coat- and shoe- hanger/dryer. (Zoli, are you missing a pair of shoes?) We all wondered if the 'tailings' shown on the trail map had anything to do with the moose.

The delicious food served in the dining room on Friday night made up for the 'leisurely' service and all were comfortably sated by evening's end. Buffet meals for the rest of the weekend proved to be a much better choice for both the guests and the service.

Four o'clock Saturday morning greeted us with torrential downpours. Eight o'clock greeted us with dour faces on twenty-plus disappointed skiers. Several people braved the rain and took to the trails. The rest lounged in the big house in front of a relaxing fire. Did anyone ever figure out how to make those sofas comfortable? Lou Spitz, Zoltan Nagy, and Carrie Niler played a mean game of Scrabble. Tom & Sue Gallagher and Susan Ratti chatted over old times. Marty Haas, Pat Mullins and others sampled the Big Shanty book collection. Betty Aiken and Betty Coniglio braved the elements, made a snowman, and had a snowball fight.

The après ski wine and cheese party became a lunchtime wine and cheese party. After eating and drinking almost everything in sight, someone pointed out that they saw snow. We looked out the window through skeptical eyes, and, lo and behold, it was snowing! At 2:52 in the afternoon, the rain was turning to snow. Only one or two flakes at first, but then a lot more. At 3:02 in the afternoon, Big Shanty was deserted! In the space of ten minutes, twenty-plus people had changed into skiwear, put on skis and boots, and grabbed their poles to salvage as much of the day as possible.

In spite of a full day of rain, the trails were in fairly good shape. One or two hours of skiing seemed to make up for the long hours cooped up in the lodge. (The wine didn't hurt either!) The day ended successfully and everyone was happy once again.

Sunday brought a 7:00 a.m. temperature of 7.9° and a wind chill of -30°. But, true to GSSC style, no one let this stop them. Everyone went skiing on well-groomed trails under a sunny, blue sky, making for a great end to a weekend that began with a shaky start!

Susan Amdur

(No, tailings are not related to the moose at all. They are the leftover ore remnants from the garnet mine that was located in the area in a previous lifetime!)*

STOWE TRIP - A GREAT SUCCESS!

I consider myself a fairly independent American male - I make my own pasta, my own bread (I never met a gadget I didn't like), and brew my own beer. Ironically, though, there are few things I like to do socially by myself. Why then, you might ask, would a neophyte GSSC member like myself go on a long weekend of skiing to Stowe, Vermont with the GSSC alone? The only two things I could think of was: friendly GSSCers and good skiing. Let me correct myself, it was great skiing. Mt. Mansfield in Stowe, Vermont is one of the biggest mountains in the East. It comes complete with a high-speed gondola, a high-speed quad chair lift, helpful support personnel, lots of snow, and Catamount beer.

My first day I spent skiing with my new friend Michael "don't call me Mike" Friedman. Michael is a professional weatherman, so I learned all about cumulo nimbus, alto cirrus, and alto cumulous clouds on the chair lift. It was just a great, sunny day of skiing. On the second day, we were greeted by about ½ foot of fresh powder. As an inveterate New Jersey skier, I was thrown a little by these great conditions. Usually, when I carve a turn in New Jersey, one of two things happens: either 1) that delightful sound of my once sharp edges scraping against ice, or 2) sparks fly up from skiing over 1/2-inch of "packed powder". You can imagine my dismay when a spray of fresh powder flew up when I made a turn.

Time for a lesson.

I sought out John Cholin, GSSC member and excellent instructor. He taught me a lot about correct ski technique, the most interesting of which was the Cantrall turn drill (ask John to describe it if you see him at a meeting). As a teacher, myself, I especially appreciated his helping to instill in me a further appreciation of the sheer fun of skiing, a 'joie de ski'.

The next day we went touring and shopping in the town of Stowe. A highlight of our tour was our stop at Ben and Jerry's ice cream factory. The factor seemed to reflect the personality of its founders, an odd combination of the sixties, the Three Stooges, and John D. Rockefeller.

I went home looking forward to another event with the GSSC.

were asked numerous questions, which, if answered correctly, entitled the winner to prizes ranging from watches, to dinner for two, to espresso cup sets, hats, and T-shirts!

- musical 'guys' (ask Zoli about this one!)
- dancing 'in town' til the wee hours
- 3:00 a.m. wake up call when the sauna started smoking after someone (not from Garden State) spilled beer on the lava rocks in the sauna
- 18 people in the 15 person hot tub, a 12-pack of Honey Brown Lager, and a floating bag of pretzels, also in the hot tub
- ice cube fights in the hot tub
- Bob Gimpel's bare butt in the hot tub (twice)
- snow angels (one of the Mike's), and a few other hardy souls.

The final day of wonderful skiing on about two inches of new, beautifully groomed snow.

- fresh sandwiches from a wonderful deli in town, courtesy of many sweet roommates and friends who took the day off to sightsee.
- packing it all in and getting settled in for the long bus ride home
- watching a movie and comparing notes about the trip
- still trying to get to know all the 'Mikes' on the bus
- saying goodnight to everyone after what seemed like a short trip home!

Definitely a trip I want to be on again next year. It was run very smoothly by Kim Tursiello, with the able assistance of Joe Noto. Kim had made arrangements with our bus drivers, who were wonderful in taking us back and forth to the mountain and, in general, helped everyone to get where they wanted to go. Everyone was warm and friendly and open to meeting everyone else. We had a blast!

Rainy Days

Mary Barber is recuperating from vascular surgery. She developed an injury after she got hit in the leg with a golf ball. Mary is in such fit shape that while she was in the recovery room, doctors were marveling at her excellent vital signs! Although she had to put her extremely athletic lifestyle on hold for a few weeks, she is now healing well and back to the GSSC meetings.

Bonnie Daubenberger will have surgery as a result of a serious knee injury. Cards can be sent to Bonnie's home to wish her a speedy recovery.

SKINNY SKIERS GET THEIR KICKS DURING WINTER 'NINETY-SIX

Garden State's Nordic Ski contingent found kicks 'n glides aplenty during this on-again, off-again winter, including day trips within our snowbound state, and weekend outings to the Adirondack deep woods.

The "Great Blizzard" of Jan. 7-8 paralyzed the Northeast, but allowed many XC stalwarts to demonstrate the free-spirited nature of the sport as they slapped on the skinny boards and headed out to local parks, gold courses, and even suburban roads and by-ways.

A week later, the focus of activity was the often-visited State Line Overlook in Alpine (Pal. Pkwy. exit 3N or 2S), with stunning views of the mighty Hudson River and ice flows flowing north with the tide.

An annoying pattern of rainy thaws thwarted planned day trips to Lakes Minnewaska and Mohonk. But a trip to NJ's own Waywayanda State Park with Ramapo Ski Club during an "on-again" snowstorm succeeded, according to Bev Valenti. And Mike Scugoza's venture into the ungroomed trails of Harriman State Park rewarded us with more fresh powder and some backwoods stomping.

Our first first major weekend trip, to Garnet Hill Lodge, near Gore Mt. in an Adirondack snow-pocket, was shared with Ramapo, with Linda Wells shepherding GSSC's half of the 32 skiers. The trip got off to a shaky, rainy start, but as soon as a snowy cold front invaded, new member Zoltan Nagy led the stampede to the door of the "Big Shanty", our rustic lodge. Spirited partying and hearty dining rounded out the festivities.

The season's grand finale was our sixth annual visit to Lapland Lake, another pine-scented

Adirondack paradise, where we stay in cabins in a Finnish village setting and ski out our doors onto the best groomed trails in the Northeast. Only a hearty few skied "the fingers" - three double-diamond loops - including Bob Gimpel, who made one of his rare appearances in skinny-ski gear.

Mike Scugoza led one group on a snowshoe excursion through the woods. Others, including Barb Comly, Karen Hromada, and John Minnett, abandoned traditional XC techniques to develop skills in the new "skating" style - a graceful, if exhausting, way to cover a lot of ground fast. An extensive gourmet wine & cheese party and hearty Finnish smorgasbord restored the spirits of the weary skiers.

For those who enjoy the freedom and fun of skiing unencumbered by heavy equipment, crowded liftlines and crass commercialism, Winter '96 was truly a boon year!

- Ron Vitale

WHO'S WHO

Dorothy Kruckmeyer (Dottie) is the attractive blond who attends most meetings, as she accounts for incoming assets at the end of the evening. She gives much of her time to the R.A.T.D.O.G.S. and assists with the planning of tennis parties. dot is on the dessert committee for our famous BBQ's. A computer program analyst, she loves the theater, traveling all over the country, and dancing.

Micki Goldberger-Levine, a striking, aggressive personality, has been a member for over six years. She met Ron at Victor's Maywood Inn and shortly thereafter married him - a match made in heaven. Micki has been the chairperson for the Snow Ball for the past several years. She loves to ski and swim. "A wonderful partner" as quoted by Ron.

Linda Wells has been a member for two years. She helps Ron Vitale with the cross country ski committee. Linda works for Safilo Glass Corp. She loves to ski, roller blade, canoe, tennis, and hike. Linda has a husband and two children.

Joy Daubenberger's longevity gives her recognition as she devotes 101% of her time to the GSSC racing program. A longtime member, she is highly supportive of the improvement of the Vermont Ski Lodge. Joy and her husband graciously donate their shore house for the annual summer olympics. Joy identifies club interests with her own.
